FBI Arrests 21 White Men In Rights Killing

By MIKE SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Anger, unrest and unanswered questions gripped this eastern Mississippi town today after the FBI arrested 21 white men Friday in connection with the murder of three civil rights workers last summer.

Twenty of the 21, including Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, Deputy Cecil Price and five Ku Klux Klansmen, were free on bond, awaiting a hearing in federal court at nearby Meridian Thursday.

The FBI charged 19 of the men with violating the civil rights of the three workers, and the other two as accessories.

The FBI complaint said Price and nine of the others plotted the interception of the workers near Philadelphia and that it was part of the conspiracy that they "would threaten, assault, shoot and kill them."

The victims were Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro of Indian, Miss. They disappeared after going to Philadelphia from nearby Meridian to investigate a church bombing.

Their bodies were found in an earth-fill dam 44 days later.

The big question at Philadelphia residents locked their doors and deserted their streets Friday night was whether any of the 21 men swept up in the FBI net would actually be charged with murder.

Murder is not a federal crime unless it is committed on federal property. The FBI said it would turn over information to the state for possible murder prosecution.

Dist. Atty. William H. Johnson Jr., the state prosecutor for this red clay hill section of Mississippi, said he was studying the FBI charges, "but I am not in a position to say what action will be taken."

Johnson said the next grand jury which could return murder indictments is scheduled to meet in February.

Philadelphia, a town of 6,000 which boasts livestock and lumber as its major industries, was a place of paradox after the news of the arrests swept the nation Friday.

"This has just ruined our Christmas," said one woman, who asked that her name not be used. "I wish they could have done it sooner, so it wasn't so close to Christmas."

Another man said he figured the 21 would be held under large bonds — "whatever figure was set by the Rev. Martin Luther King. You know, he's running our government."

Tells About Research on Telephones

"The difference between the way Arkansans sounded on a telephone in 1915 and the way they sound today represents more than 50 years of work and literally millions of dollars spent by the telephone industry on research, development, and new equipment."

Curt Johnston, Southwestern Bell - Arkansas science demonstrator, told the Rotary Club here Friday.

Johnston demonstrated a unique "speech feedback" machine, which causes a person talking to have a half-second delay in hearing his or her own voice. The slight delay is so confusing to the ear that the person has difficulty continuing to talk.

He also demonstrated how a buzzer, when properly controlled, can be made to emit discernible vowel sounds. Carrying the same point further, he played a tape of sounds made by a computer, with cards properly punched, that emerged as a clearly understandable "human" voice.

"In the future," Johnston said, "a person may be able to type on a keyboard and cause a 'talking machine' thousands of miles away to speak to him. There is also the possibility that these 'talking machines' can be built for people who are unable to speak at all."

Two Bail Out of Disabled Jet

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Lts. Jerry B. Houston of Harrison, Ark., and Thomas W. Brown of Florence, S.C., bailed out of their disabled Navy jet trainer near here Thursday.

They aimed the plane at Mobile Bay, but the plane's nose lurched up and it went across the bay into a populated area of Daphne, Ala. The plane crashed near a school. No one was hurt.

1200 Farms Involved in Overplanting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that questions have arisen as to whether more than 1,200 farms in St. Francis County, Ark., overplanted their 1964 cotton crop acreage allotments.

The department said everything possible is being done to settle controversies over farmer compliance with the federal cotton-control program.

Overplanting makes a farmer liable to heavy penalty taxes and loss of cotton price supports and payments, although it is not a violation of law involving criminal prosecution.

A spokesman said the department is as anxious as the involved farmers to get the matter settled.

It appears, the spokesman said, that there may have been some errors and undue delays locally in measuring plantings of individual farmers, with a result that operators unknowingly overplanted. In such cases, the operator probably would not be penalized.

As many as 14 inspectors have been in St. Francis County at one time, checking on whether farmers complied with the allotment program administered by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service's committee of farmers.

The situation has adversely affected the economy of the county, the department said.

Farms on which there may have been violations of acreage allotments are not given marketing quota cards. Buyers are held liable for the penalty should they buy cotton from a farm which lacks such a card.

Furthermore, a farm which did overplant may not sell its cotton until it has paid the penalty. The signing of documents giving false information regarding plantings and allotments is subject to criminal prosecution.

Mariner 4 Kick Could Spell Failure

By RALPH DIGHTON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 4 cruised smoothly toward Mars today as its earth-bound mentors prepared to give it a gentle kick in the pants that could mean success for failure in history's first interplanetary race.

The "kick in the pants" will be a short burst from a small rocket in the base of the 575-pound spacecraft, to be ordered by radio as Mariner 4 passes over Jet Propulsion Laboratory's Goldstone, Calif., tracking station about 8 a.m.

At that time Mariner 4, launched Saturday, will be 1,084,344 miles from earth, apparently still well ahead of the Soviet Union's Marsbound Zond 2, and 123,394,804 miles from Mars.

Last report from Moscow placed the Soviet craft, launched Monday, 443,750 miles from earth at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

At 12 noon Wednesday — the nearest comparative time, because Mariner 4's position is figured every four hours — the U.S. craft was 771,263 miles from earth.

Firing of its 50-pound-thrust liquid-fuel rocket was planned to increase Mariner 4's speed from 7,048 to almost 7,100 m.p.h. Just before the firing, tiny jets of steam were to roll the spacecraft and point it more directly at Mars. Hopefully, the burst would send it past Mars at a distance of about 8,600 miles next July 14, with a chance to snap the best pictures yet of the "mysterious planet's surface."

IN MEMORIAM JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY 1917-1963

WHO DEDICATED HIS LIFE TO THE PROMOTION OF PEACE

PHILATELIC FIRST—Nigeria's new Kennedy memorial stamp carries with it a first for stamp collectors. It is a souvenir sheet featuring the late president's widow and her children. The sheet, which contains four five-shilling stamps, will undoubtedly be rare: only 35,000 have been printed.

Each Day the Time Struggle Gets So Intense We're Hit by the Poverty of Business

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Star Feature Writer

In America today—this land of plenty—the one thing we seem to lack the most is Time. The month of December has the shortest days with the fastest clocks of any throughout the year. Each day our "time struggle" becomes more intense until we are beset by what has been called "the poverty of business."

Modern man (or woman) qualifies as the most nervously busy person who ever lived. This is despite the miracles of labor-saving machinery, which seem to be only so many sharp spurs urging us on to invent more machinery and to do more business.

We recall the quotation, "Lost wealth may be replaced by industry, lost health by temperance, but lost time is gone forever."

There may be arguments about part of that last statement, but no one can disagree with the final phrase, for the few seconds it took to read it, are now history. At every turn we are reminded of the number of days remaining before the 25th of this month. They are intended as "words to the wise," but constant repetition turns them into "notes to the nervous."

It was strange to discover that someone not of our time had a similar problem regarding time. His name was Ahab, King of Israel 2,900 years ago, and he is best remembered for his wife, Jezebel. Ahab enters our picture not because of her, however, but he was a prime example of a person so busy with trifles (his so-called accomplishments) that he lost sight of his prime responsibilities (his captured enemies who were set free came back to murder him).

Like Ahab we find it very easy to major in minors. We get so attuned to the song, "Busy Doing Nothing," we are ready to scream the Broadway sign of our times: "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off."

What is the solution? We would all like to know. John T. Faris once said, "Do not waste five-dollar time on a five-cent job." He had a good point, for too often we fail to realize the eternal value of time. A person who wastes money is frowned on, but one who wastes time is given a tolerant smile. Using our precious gift of time creatively is one of the best investments we could make in both Today and Tomorrow.

As the inscription on a sundial on the campus of a New York college says:

The shadow by my finger cast Divides the future from the past, Before it stands the unborn hour In darkness, and beyond the power. Behind it's unreturning life The vanished hour, no longer thine One hour alone is in thy hands.— The NOW on which the shadow stands.

Bail Set for Students in School Sit-in

By JOHN W. WOOD

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — President Clark Kerr of the University of California, says the student Free Speech Movement's chaotic sit-in demonstration on campus Thursday amounted to "anarchy by a willful minority of radical students."

An army of police dragged rag-limp students out of the littered corridors of the administration building on the Berkeley campus, and hauled them to jails in buses. They arrested 81 persons.

The rebels seized Sproul Hall Wednesday night and refused to vacate despite a plea to disperse peacefully by campus Chancellor Edward Strong.

Mario Savio, 21, a philosophy major who moved to California from New York City, led the demonstrators in their demands for unrestricted freedom to recruit members and collect funds anywhere on campus for off-campus political activities.

"This protest has never been over free speech," he said. "There has been and is freedom of speech at the University of California. The protest has been over organizing political action on the campus. This has been granted within the limits of the law."

Congo Rescue Denounced by Russians

By FRED W. COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party chief, denounced today the Western paratroop landing in the Congo and also said the Soviet Union is ready to help North Viet Nam.

But, in reiterating stands already taken by the Kremlin, Brezhnev withheld any specific pledge of direct Soviet intervention in either area.

He called the paratroop landing in the Congo a "surprising example of imperialist piracy" and said Western aims there are doomed to failure.

On Viet Nam, he repeated the words of an "authorized statement" made a week ago by the official Soviet news agency Tass:

"The Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to the fate of a sister Socialist country and is prepared to render the necessary assistance to her." There was no elaboration by either Tass or Brezhnev.

Apparently he was referring to Peking's proposal for a world disarmament meeting, made after Red China exploded its first atom bomb.

Red Meat, Fruits Supply Abundant

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red meat, fruits and vegetables, attractively priced and in abundant supply, will greet the shopper this weekend.

Beef, lamb and pork lead the main course department. Eggs, canned pink salmon, fish sticks and fish portions complete the best-buy list of protein foods in many sections of the country.

Produce counters will be filled with broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, sweet corn, lettuce, peppers, potatoes, sweet potatoes, avocados, bananas, cranberries, grapes and tangerines this weekend.

Oranges, grapefruit and apples remain good buys in most areas. Crab, scallops, oysters, shrimp, and halibut are in plentiful supply.

Reserves May Be in for Major Surgery

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two years, defense officials appear to be preparing for major surgery on military reserve forces.

Just what form that surgery will take is not yet clear. Studies have been under way in both the Air Force and the Army.

The service recommendations are awaited by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who will make the final decisions.

Indications point to possible heavy losses for the Army and Air Force Reserve, perhaps virtual elimination of the Reserve and its merger with the National Guard.

The aim of any new streamlining would be elimination of wasteful and cumbersome duplication and strengthening of the readiness of Reserve forces which cost about $2 billion a year to support.

Pentagon planners find it hard to understand why the Army and Air Force should maintain dual organizations — the Reserve and the National Guard — serving essentially the same purpose.

Little fault is found with the Marine Reserve whose 45,000 men would form a fourth Marine division and supporting air wing.

Officials claim it would be ready to go overseas in 30 days from call-up.

The Naval Reserve also escapes serious criticism, although officials feel it should be held to 126,000 sea-trained men rather than a larger force including thousands of men who do not train regularly.

It is in the nearly 400,000-man Army Guard and 300,000-man Army Reserve — as well as the 61,000-man Air Force Reserve — that defense officials profess to find flab.

The 75,000-man Air Guard stands in pretty high esteem with these officials.

McNamara's emphasis, so far as the Guard and Reserve are concerned, is on swift readiness for use in cold war or limited war situations.

Mariner 4 Is Boosted; Will Picture Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 4, its slight sensor fixed again on the guiding star Canopus, was slated to get a course-changing nudge today from a small rocket on the speeding spacecraft.

Scientists at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory hope the brief firing of the small rocket — programmed for 20 seconds — will cause Mariner to pass within 8,600 miles of Mars next July 14.

This distance is considered ideal for a successful fly-by in the interplanetary race to take the best pictures yet of the planet.

Mariner gave its builders at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory some anxious moments Friday when it temporarily lost its fix on Canopus, then developed a disturbing wobble.

This caused a 24-hour delay in the mid-course maneuver originally set for Friday.

But the wobble stopped and the spacecraft's light sensor again found Canopus by late afternoon, thanks to a series of eight commands from the Woomera, Australia, tracking station.

The trouble developed when Mariner was 1,100,000 miles and seven days out from earth on its seven-month voyage. The spacecraft apparently was well in front of Zond 2, the competing vehicle launched by Russia at Mars six days ago.

Christmas Mail Peak Now Here

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the time of year the folks at the post office glance nervously at the sky for signs of snow, talk of possible transportation strikes very seriously and, above all, keep their fingers crossed.

For Christmas is exactly three weeks away.

"The peak mailing period is upon us right now," a department spokesman said today as he discussed the delicate delivery system that is designed to get your mail to you before the holiday — not after it.

The deadlines have been posted, the promotional campaign mounted — "Shop early, mail early, use zip codes" — and the trouble spots that turned up in previous years hopefully have been erased.

Now about all the Post Office Department can do is hope that all goes smoothly.

Chicago is especially important because it is the approximate center of the country, and most east-west mail goes through it.

Last December a severe Midwestern storm and subzero temperatures slowed things up. So this year, the Windy City has on its South Side a brand new parcel post facility, inspected just Thursday by the top man himself, Postmaster Gen. John A. Gronouski. And $1 million worth of new mechanical equipment has been added.

Still, because there is no way of keeping snow from falling, "We're keeping our fingers crossed for the next three weeks," the spokesman said.

This month the Post Office Department expects to deliver 7 billion pieces of mail, 300 million more than last December. And it hopes to do it with the help of 145,000 "Christmas assistants," only 2,000 more than the 143,000 extras taken on in 1963 and less than half of the 300,000 hired the year before.

Once again the department is asking for adherence to mail deadlines.

For gift parcels to distant points in the United States the deadline is Saturday, for air parcels to servicemen overseas Dec. 10 is the date, for local gift parcels it is Dec. 14, and for local greeting cards Dec. 15.

Enough Beatles in Jail Already

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Prisoners at the Jackson County jail wear sweatshirts in the winter months, and when Sheriff Arvid Owsley requisitioned two gross sweatshirts the county purchasing agent's office responded with a $48 alternative: $15.50 a dozen, orthodox sweatshirts.

$13.50 a dozen, blue sweatshirts adorned with "The Beatles" and likenesses of the British mop-tops.

Sheriff Owsley exercised a veto when he found the blue ones could not be dyed.

"Some of the prisoners would be insulted," he said. "And as far as I am concerned we have enough Beatles in the jail already."

Cheney Sees Recession Next Year

By JOHN R. STARR

Associate Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney thrust a small, dark image among the rosy picture that others are painting of Arkansas' economic situation this week.

Cheney predicted that Arkansas tax revenues — which has been increasing on an average of 6.7 per cent a year since 1959 — will level off by mid-1965.

Cheney didn't base his forecast on anything Arkansas has done, is doing or will do. He said he is looking for a national recession, and Arkansas business, naturally, will suffer along with the rest of the nation.

A decline in business means that state revenues will be collected at a slower rate than in boom periods. Witness 1960, the last recession year. State tax collections increased 7.8 per cent in fiscal 1959-60. The rate in 1960-61. This meant that the state got $2 million less revenue than it would have received at a 7.8 per cent rate.

Pulling out of a recession takes time. The 1961-62 rate of revenue increase was 5.9 per cent. It reached 7.5 per cent in 1962-63 and got back to 7.6 per cent in 1963-64.

Cheney said his expectation of a national recession was based on two factors: the long period (four years) without a recession, making one overdue, and anticipated labor troubles which usually bring a business slowdown.

There is no sign yet of a national or state recession. President Lyndon B. Johnson talks of nothing but a growing economy. Gov. Orval E. Faubus makes with the same kind of talk at the state level. State budgets, now being considered by the Legislative Council, are being drawn in the hope that revenues will continue to increase at a rate of 6.7 per cent or more.

Frank Cantrell, executive vice president of the state Chamber of Commerce, is the only man to take public issue with Cheney so far. He doesn't see labor troubles as a threat and he predicts that personal income in Arkansas will continue to rise.

More personal income means more taxes.

Cheney, however, has a pretty good record of predicting the economic future. And there is more cause for concern in Arkansas today about a national recession than in years past.

A few years ago, Arkansas' farm-based economy was among the last to feel recession effects. Now the state's economy is more closely linked with the industrial east. The Norge plant at Fort Smith, for example, can't keep making freezers if those in other areas aren't buying them.

And the state's dependence on industrial markets continues to rise. The 1964 fiscal year, which ended June 30, was second best in history in the number of industrial jobs gained. Fiscal 1963 was the best year with 19,220 jobs created by new or expanding industries.

The 1964 job gain was 13,847. The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission estimates that these jobs will produce a total payroll of $41,541,000 which, in turn, will produce state revenue of $2,275,000.

The total revenue gain for fiscal 1964 is estimated by the state comptroller's office at $8,492,000, so 25 per cent of the increase is due to expanding industrialization.

A halt in this expansion—one of the first things that would happen in a recession — would be felt almost immediately in the Arkansas tax structure.

Special Session Of Legislature Is Expected

By WICK TEMPLE

Associated Press Writer

It may go down as the worst kept secret in Arkansas history, or the best trial balloon.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus' impending special legislative session to deal with financing improvements to roads and city streets went from the stage of rumor to acceptance in 24 hours this week.

Faubus still was talking only in veiled hints. But legislators and others close to him said that Faubus would try to finance his road construction program through a $150 million bond issue financed by a one-cent a gallon increase in the gasoline tax.

The special session is expected Dec. 15 or 16. It probably will last three days. The legislature is expected to set a date for a bond issue either before the Jan. 11 regular legislative session, or early in the session.

The urgency is so that if the voters approve the bond issue, the legislature can implement it, or if they reject it, the legislature can find another way of financing road improvements.

Faubus denied reports that there would be an attempt to push through a bond proposal without a vote of the people. Any general obligation bond issue must be voted on.

The tax increase would require a three-fourths majority vote in the legislature. Sixteen lame duck House members and two senators, most of them favorable to Faubus, would participate in a special session but not in the next regular one. Faubus said he hadn't considered this.

The last general bond issue proposal—$60 million for institutional construction—was beaten by a two to one margin in June 1961.

Money Problems

The only clear picture in the Legislative Council's budget hearings this week was the fact that demand for state services has outrun the amount of money available for such services.

Faubus made three important moves:

He presented to the council a $4.6 million construction program, acknowledging that the state has only $3.5 million to spend for such a program.

He told the council that general revenue requests for the coming biennium exceed the most optimistic estimates of tax collections by $6 million a year.

And he told the council that it may be time for the state to consider "another step forward," such as the general tax increase in 1957.

Faubus didn't actually propose a tax increase. But he said, "Do we want to be daring, enthusiastic, with vision for the future, and come up with something to provide for the needs? Or do we want to curtail the budgets to the amount of funds available?"

General revenues—those paying for state services including education—are not involved in Faubus' road program for which the bond issue proposal is expected.

Faubus, in discussing his state institution construction program, said the difference between what he wanted and what money was available could be worked out either by reducing the program or finding more construction money.

Among his recommendations were $1 million for the State Hospital, $1 million for the Children's Colony and $1 million for construction of four more vocational schools.

The council continued its budget hearings into next week.

The Nielsen Research Organization reports on its estimates of the size of audiences for network TV shows every two weeks. Monday's report is considered critical because the period covered — the middle two weeks in November — were the first this season when no programs were preempted for political broadcasts.

In the unpretentious office of New York's Ford Modeling Agency, girls while away the time as they wait to be interviewed. Chances are none of them will make the grade; they will not become models. Few girls do. Yet, if they do, it is a life of long hours, long weeks but high pay.

Several independent southern England oral tales agree in saying that when Jesus of Nazareth was a young boy, before he proclaimed himself the son of God and began his ministry, he came to Britain with Joseph and stayed briefly at Glastonbury. It was the same Joseph who, years later, received Christ's body from the crucifixion cross and buried it in a sepulchre. Then, forced out of Palestine, Joseph returned to Glastonbury.

It also authorized $2 million for the new state Highway Department office building to be constructed near Mabelvale. The commission approved $3,000 for a resident engineer's office in DeWitt and $9,500 for similar offices at Alma and Clark.

The bases, oil inflation rising Arab nationalism create political pressures on 77-year-old King Idriss. Preferring the isolation of palace at Tobruk, he rules long distance and with Oriental suspicion, frequently juggle his ministers.

Charged With Church Theft

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Patsy Bates, 37, of Hot Springs, Ark., agreed Wednesday to return to Arkansas to face charges that she embezzled more than $100,000 from the First Presbyterian Church at Hot Springs. Mrs. Bates, former secretary of the church, was arrested Nov. 26 at nearby Rodeo by federal agents on a warrant charging her with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

It was just under 15 minutes when she arrived back at the table. She was wearing an attractive black dress, a lightweight black coat and just enough jewelry. "Do I look all right?" she asked.

"Beautiful," I said. And it was true. I beckoned the waiter and gave him the check. "Now where shall we go?"

"Wherever you say."

"No, no, it's your town, so you pick the spot." If it was a trap I might as well make it easy for her.

"All right," she said. We walked out from the street and found a cab. She gave the driver directions.

It was another club, but much more attractive than the one we'd just left. The orchestra was also better and they had a good blues singer. The waiter led us to a table and took our order. She drank slingers. It figured.

"I'll bet you think I'm a pick-up," she said suddenly.

"I hadn't given it a y thought," I said. "Are you?"

"I don't think so," she said seriously. "Did you get a good look at the customers in my uncle's club?"

"I just glanced around."

"Once in a while someone nice like you comes along, and if he asks me out, I go. But that's all. Are you married?"

"No."

"That's nice. And I'm glad you're not really a friend of Tip Wright's."

"Why?"

"He's not very nice. He hangs around my uncle's club a lot. He just got out of Sing Sing a few months ago."

"Really?"

"Yes. And he's been in prison before. There are a lot of guys like that who come into the club."

I had to say two things for

We watched her walk away. The long net stockings made her legs look beautiful.

"Nice foundation," Larry said casually. "Do you think she's a trap?"

"I don't know," I admitted. "Well, you can't lose them all," he said. "What do we do now?"

"I think I'm going to cultivate the hatchback girl."

"Well, I know an exit line when I hear it. See you in the morning."

I watched him stop to pick up his hat and walk out of the club. A couple of minutes later the girl came out of the cloakroom, carrying her tray of cigarettes, and came directly to my table.

"Your friend," she said, "told me that you wanted some cigarettes. He even told me what brand."

"No," she said. "This is on the house, Mr. Morgan."

"That was a new one. 'How come?'"

"Good will."

I laughed. "Well, while you're in the mood for spreading good will, let me something."

"What time do you get off?"

"Oh, I can get off any time."

"How can you manage that?"

"My uncle owns the club. He makes one of the waiters take care of the checkroom."

"Sounds like a good system. How would you like to stop working and go somewhere with me?"

Special Session

It must come up with recommendations for the legislature. It has $163 million in state agency budget requests compared to an anticipated $157 million in general revenues.

Faubus agreed to a proposed $100 a month pay increase for state troopers. But he said he does not know where the money is coming from. There was an indication that more money would go to the State Police agency from the highway fund, general revenues, or both.

Teacher Pay

Faubus approved a $17 million increase in the Education Department's budget this week in an attempt to provide teachers with $1,000 more a year - on the average - in salaries.

The governor cut some areas of the department budget, but went down the line with the teachers, as he had promised to do in his campaign for a sixth term.

Faubus said he didn't want to get into a squabble over how the money would be apportioned - whether each teacher would get a flat $1,000 raise, or whether the money would be prorated on the basis of what the teachers now earn.

Car Leaves Bridge Driver Is Killed

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) - Gaf, a defense attorney. One juror said afterward that the panel had been in general agreement throughout the deliberations.

Augelli granted a request by Ivanov's attorney to continue Ivanov's bail at $100,000. The bail was set up Dec. 20 by the Soviet Embassy, permitting Ivanov to go home to his wife and daughter in New York City to await trial.

Wednesday night Aleksei P. Kosikov, of the Soviet Embassy, said Mrs. Ivanov returned to the Soviet Union earlier this year with her 7-year-old daughter, Irina. Mrs. Ivanov gave birth to a son last month in Moscow, he added.

Butenko took the witness stand for two days to deny the government charges. He said he met a Soviet diplomat in New Jersey on at least two occasions to seek information about relatives in the Soviet Union. He said he had never met Ivanov until after their arrest in a dark, deserted parking lot in Englewood. Ivanov did not testify.

God's Word Says Come

Come let us go into the House of the Lord

This Page Is Published With The Hope It Will Focus The Attention Of Our People On The Churches Of This Area

It is Paid For By Frims Who Hope To Measure Their Reward In Greater Numbers Of People Attending Church.

HOW IS

What you see and what you look for, when you read, makes a difference. Vision is 87% of all avenues to the brain. Can your vision distinguish between good and evil, honor and dishonor? Jesus said, If your eye leads you into sin, pluck it out. The library of your church will give you reading of 20-20 vision for the soul.

The Bible, in any version, is the world's best reading. Has your Bible reading vision become impaired? Do you develop astigmatism when you start reading God's word? What reading the Bible has done for others... it will do for you. Read it with 20-20 vision of mind and of soul.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .
